"Delivery and Collection bookings from your website"

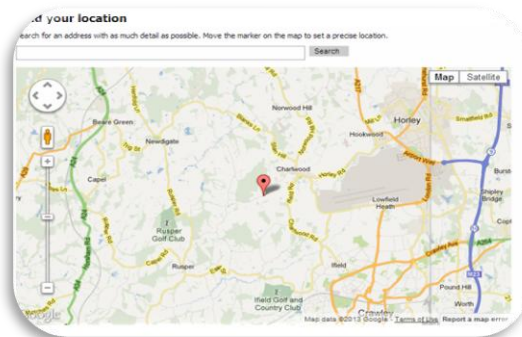

by Peter Burns, Development Manager

Do you have customers who don't want to come to you, but want you to come to them? We now support using Google Maps to let the customer enter their own delivery and collection location. Many prospective customers would be reluctant to call you to try to arrange such a deluxe extra, but now it can be just a few clicks away right on the front page of your website.

When delivery and collection is enabled, the itinerary section of your web page is expanded to show them as options.

When one is selected, a map interface pops up. The customer can search for their chosen location and pinpoint it on the map. They can also add notes and a contact phone number to assist the driver.

The delivery / collection charge will be calculated automatically from the details that they put in, and included in the estimate. So your customers will have the complete quote in front of them, and can decide to proceed with the booking.

Note that there is some pre-requisite setup work required, so please contact your support centre to discuss an implementation. As always, we advise you to test any changes on your test website / company first.

Colleagues,

Many of you will know that my pre-Thermeon career was in Change Management. I still relish big changes and am now taking the opportunity to change my career! I have thoroughly enjoyed my three years with Thermeon, working with a dedicated team of experts in car rental. I have relished the opportunities I have had to meet many of you at various trade shows that we have attended. Very best wishes to all of you for the future. Do keep in touch.

Andy

Many thanks to Andy for his fine work over the past three years. It is much appreciated.

Who am I? I am one of the owners of Thermeon and have been a part of this business for over 30 years.

I hope to bring insight and knowledge to this role as well as thoughtful leadership.

Wish me luck!!

Terry
